

simulated differences in proportions